About Cuevas del Almanzora...

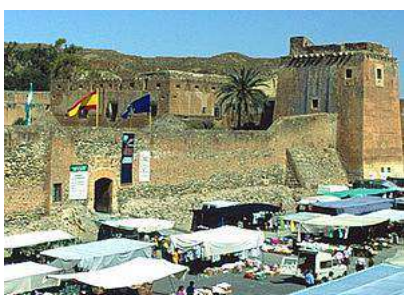

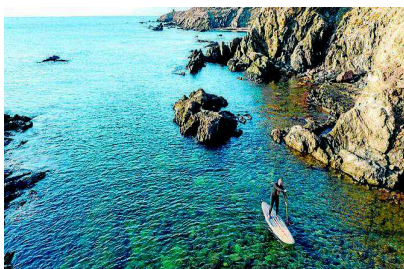

Cuevas del Almanzora is located on the banks of the Almanzora river in the northeast of the Almería province.

This town is located between Vera and Huercal-Overa, 25 kilometres from Pulpi, 23 kilometres from Mojacar and 97 kilometres from Almería.

Cuevas del Almanzora is famous for its caves, where its inhabitants once lived in the distant past. You can see for example “Las Cuevas de Calguerín”, located just 2 km from the town centre, which served as a home and shelter during medieval times. It is also possible to visit the Cave Museum, where you can learn about the way of life in the town in the mid-20th century.

The privileged location and the proximity to the coast which the town enjoys have converted it throughout history in a local economic and trade centre. If we add to this the times of splendour during the mining of the Sierra Almagrera we can comprehend that we are in a town with a great deal of history in its streets and houses, as seen in the castle, the Town Hall or the house of the poet Sotomayor.
